Learning Never Stops – Even for Teachers

Learning is a lifelong process– or so the saying goes, but often busy schedules and other priorities get in the way. Now that you’re used to being the teacher, how about being a student again and going back to school – online? Many educators are interested in furthering their education and OhioLearns! (www.ohiolearns.org) offers a great way for you to continue your education at a distance, while still teaching. OhioLearns! offers many options whether you’re looking for a master’s degree, an endorsement to your teaching certificate or just a single course to brush up on your skills. Not sure whether or not you have enough time? Enjoy distance learning courses that are flexible enough to fit around your schedule.

OhioLearns! offers 15 education-related degrees, endorsements and certificates and over 4,000 courses to choose from with easy search methods for desired degrees or courses by providing search fields for keywords, date, institution, method of delivery and degree level. OhioLearns! connects you with high-quality, convenient courses from your own home or office without sacrificing your time or gas to go to class.

Get assistance planning your future with a personal Regional Coordinator (<http://www.ohiolearns.org/rc/rcs.php>) or from our helpful planning page (http://ohiolearns.org/get_a_plan/getaplan.php). For those that are wary about trying distance learning, try E 4 ME (www.e4meohio.org) our free, one month distance learning course that introduces individuals to the basics of online learning. So, what are you waiting for? Start your distance learning education today!

The Ohio Learning Network (www.oln.org) brings distance learning to you, when you want it and how you want it.
